

OFFERING THIS WEEK is for the Local Conference Advance

A generous steward is a life manager. Therefore, in the realm of spirituality and practicality, we manage God's goods. God is the Owner and He has given us dominion over His possessions. Thus, we must remain in a close relationship with Him for guidance. Faithful management of His stuff is relevant and woven into every aspect of life.

Stewardship executed properly allows us to breathe. Trust God and seek His help daily. David implied this trust in this way: "...I'm leaping and singing in the circle of your love; you saw my pain, you disarmed my tormentors. You didn't leave me in their clutches but gave me room to breathe" (Ps. 31:6-8 MSG).

- Smothered by life's challenges? Breathe!
- Tough finances? Breathe!
- Health issues? Breathe!
- Family challenges, Breathe!
- Abused? Breathe!
- Stressed by current local and world events? Breathe!
- In earth's final prophetic hour? Breathe!

Managing life God's way gives us room to breathe when we face challenges. I invite you to become a radical disciple for Jesus and revolt from past selfish practices and start a revolution. I encourage you to practice "Revolutionary Generosity" and breathe!

Prayer: Dear God, we thank you that you give us room to breathe. Help us to become radical disciples of Jesus and teach us "Revolutionary Generosity." Bless our tithes and offerings and bless the Conference Treasury Department as they distribute wisely the funds given to preach the Adventist gospel. In Jesus' name, AMEN!

~Steve Case

WELCOME

Grace and peace to you. This was the Apostle Paul's traditional greeting to the churches in God's Kingdom community—God's family of grace and peace. Family relationships are important to God and they're important to us too! We hope and pray that you find grace and peace and family here in our Kingdom community. Please take some time to check out our programs, church school, or a sermon or two. We hope you'll come back frequently, and we pray that God will richly bless you as you seek to know Him and grow in grace.

Scripture Reading Today

L u k e 1 4 : 1 0 , 1 1

¹⁰ But when you are invited, take the lowest place, so that when your host comes, he will say to you, 'Friend, move up to a better place.'

Then you will be honored in the presence of all the other guests. ¹¹ For all those who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted."

Let no one exalt himself, talking of himself, extolling his abilities, displaying his knowledge, and cultivating self-conceit. Let no one seek to tear down the work of others who do not labor according to his standard. The heavenly Teacher gives us the invitation, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light" (Matthew 11:28-30). Christ was never self-confident, bigoted, or self-conceited. He declared, "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise" (John 5:19)....

No man has a right to call himself his own. And no man possesses any good thing that he can call his own. Every man, everything, is the property of the Lord. All that man receives from the bounty of heaven is still the Lord's. Whatever we have that is of value, we should use for the benefit of our fellowmen, in order that they shall become valuable workers. Every energy, every endowment, is a talent that should contribute to God's glory by being used in His service. Our God-given capabilities should not be made to serve selfish ends. We should always be willing to impart, letting others know all that we know; and we should rejoice, if they in their work develop an energy and an intelligence superior to that which we possess.

God's gifts are not to be used for the exaltation of self, but are to be put out to the exchangers, so that He shall receive His own with usury. Let not one attempt to secure greatness, happiness, or self-gratification by diverting from their proper use the powers with which he is endowed; for by so doing he dishonors the Giver, and fails of fulfilling the purpose for which he was created. All our powers come from God, and should be used to His glory....

No one has the least cause for boasting. No one has any reason to glorify or exalt self, even when one does his very best.—Letter 10, May 3, 1884, to a pioneer minister in Denmark.
